BYLAW NO. 592

A Bylaw of the Town of Davidson to regulate the preliminary treatment of sewage and the maintenance of the sewage system and sewer service line at the Halfway Husky Service Station and Restaurant located on Parcel E Plan 82S36159, in Davidson, Saskatchewan

WHEREAS urban municipalities are granted the authority, under the Urban Municipality Act, 1984, to compel owners or occupants of land or buildings to provide proper treatment of sewage and to properly maintain sewage systems and lines.

AND WHEREAS it has been determined that odor causing septic sewer is being introduced into the town sewage system by the Halfway Husky Service Station and Restaurant

NOW THEREFORE the Council of the Town of Davidson enacts as follows:

The Halfway Husky Service Station and Restaurant shall take such steps as are necessary to remedy the septic conditions including, but not limited to:

1. Install and maintain grease and oil separators on the effluent lines for the restaurant and garage.
2. Flush and swab the sewage force main from the Husky to the outlet in the manhole at Second Street and King Edward Street, with the Town of Davidson to pay the associated cost from the Husky property line to the manhole for 1 cleaning per year and with any additional cleaning that may be required to be the sole responsibility of the owner/operator.
3. Use appropriate bacteria producing chemicals in the septic tank at the Husky.
4. Remove the still pipe on the sewer pipe entering the septic tank manhole.
5. Install a larger capacity pump complete with new stop/start float switches set such that the pump starts more frequently over a lower operating depth.
6. Provide a vent in and a vent out of the manhole to the outside of the building.

Failure to comply with the terms of this bylaw will result in the Town of Davidson completing the necessary work with the owner/operator of the Halfway Husky Service Station and Restaurant being billed for the costs, or discontinuance of service as the Town of Davidson shall in its discretion deem appropriate.
